

side hairs
on abdominal
segments
III-V are double or triple

The image shows a close-up, dorsal view of a mosquito's abdomen. The segments are dark brown and segmented. Fine, light-colored hairs (setae) are visible on the sides of the segments. Two yellow arrows point to the side hairs on segments III and IV, which are noted as being double or triple.