

A close-up, high-magnification photograph of insect head hairs. The background is dark, and the hairs are light-colored. Two yellow arrows point to specific features: one to a cluster of short, branched hairs and another to a single, long hair.

upper head hair short
and branched

lower head
hair single